Toronto, Ontario — The Sixth Annual Squiggfest, proudly bringing the underground to you since 2004, is back for another jam packed weekend of art. New this year, SQF is going to be jammed into 3 nights in a weekend in late August. Also new, SQF is moving to a new home. Bread and Circus will be welcoming the art-riot through it's doors this year. Squiggfest combines Theatre, Dance, Musicians, DJ's, Stand-Up and Sketch Comedy, Spoken Word and Visual Artists from all backgrounds and specialties in evenings of all around awesome. Some of this year's Squiggfest stellar acts include Comedian Sara Hennessey; One Half Hamilton's Rap Album of the Year winners, now defunct Boys of Thunder, Poe; Theatre from playwrights Byron Abalos and Kai Yapp, dance company Collective Heat; from Montreal, blue-collar-rockers Dead Messenger; and Juno-award-winning Bob Wiseman. Of course, The Cupcake Girl with her gourmet cupcakes will be there every night. Full line up and bios will be posted shortly on the website.

What sets Squiggfest apart from all the other summer festivals? "Squiggfest is a festival for the people: melding plays, bands, dance and DJs in every night," says festival organizer Robin 'Squiggy' Dutt. "We want to dispel any elitist notions about the arts and combine high talent in various mediums with the goal of entertaining everyone who walks through the door. And you can grab a pint while being entertained."

As a cutting edge festival, Squiggfest brings you the real sound, feel and passion of the underground; giving you a sneak peak at what's next - all for just $5.
